DELEGATE BALKS AT FREAR

Kuhio Files Strenuous Kick Against the Confirmation of Governor Frear by the Senate -- Attorney Kinney Backs up Prince by Submitting Additional Objections to Senate Committee on Territories

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Delegate Kuhio has come out into the open in a fight to prevent the confirmation of Governor Frear, whose reappointment has been before the senate for a month.
From San Francisco, where the delegate has been staying for some days, he has entered a vigorous protest against Frear's confirmation, wiring his protest to the senate committee on territories. The telegram was received by the committee today. It is reported here that Kuhio's action was taken after a conference in San Francisco with some of his friends from Hawaii.
The delegate telegraphs that he is sending data by mail in support of his protest.
Attorney W. A. Kinney, who has already made a protest against Frear, has now submitted additional objections. Action on Governor Frear's appointment has been indefinitely postponed by the committee, which is doing nothing definite with any of the names before it. All of the appointments have been held up because of the certain fight against confirmation.
C. S. ALBERT.

The news above did not cause much surprise to those who heard it today. Some time ago The Star-Bulletin gave publication to the report that Kuhio was considering entering a protest. Kinney's protest had already been given to the committee, and an effort was made here to interpret that action as Kuhio's protest. Now Kuhio has entered his formal protest and there is no doubt by Kinney also for the committee to consider.
John F. Colburn, treasurer of the Kapioalani estate and one of the men who stands closest to Kuhio, has been in San Francisco for some time, and the guess was hazarded this morning that Colburn's advice has been given to the delegate to make an open fight against Frear's confirmation.
The comment was general today that Kuhio, in entering his protest has not stuck to his announcement made the night before election that he would abide by Fisher's decision. Secretary Fisher's decision was to recommend Governor Frear for reappointment, on which recommendation President Taft based his action in sending Frear's name to the senate.

Money In Tourists Best Of All "Crops"

Promotion Wood Gives Facts That Show Territory Stands to Gain Quarter of a Million Dollars During Months of January, February and March — Quotes Enormous Profits That Southern California Is Making Out of Her Tourist Traffic

That the tourist traffic to the territory during the current season, from January 1, to April 1, will probably be in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars net, was the statement of Secretary Wood that caused the promotion committee, which met in the rooms of the Merchants Association yesterday to sit up and take lively notice. Wood's assertion came on top, and as a sort of climax to a series of astounding statements from Secretary Wiggins, of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, in which the Southern Californian stated that this section of the Golden State has netted more than seventy-two million dollars since the tourist season opened there and that conservative estimates set the mark for the remainder of the season at least as much more, making $150,000,000 for the three months the season lasts in Los Angeles.

Commenting upon Mr. Wiggins' figures Mr. Wood said that, counting the tourists who have come into this territory since January 1, there are about 100. The same number is expected during the coming week, and about 100 additional the following week. At an estimated expenditure of ten dollars a day, these travelers will be bringing to Hawaii net about seven thousand dollars a day by February 1. These figures are less than allowed by the Southern California experts. Adding those who arrived here prior to January 1, and the amount the tourists are spending here reaches about $10,000 a day, or about $300,000 a month. The profit reaped by the business and commercial interests of the territory will be about $100,000.

Jurors in the federal district court were excused this morning until called, and will not be required to report Monday morning, as instructed upon the court's adjournment yesterday afternoon.

Practically all of this traffic, says Mr. Wood, comes from the publicity work for the territory, which is costing about $20,000 a year. He declared that last year every month with the exception of November, was a profitable one, and that he expects this year to be even more profitable. He pointed out that already the results of the work that is being done by Walter G. Smith are being reaped, and that they will increase as the year grows older.

He added that the committee has many plans for an enlargement of the promotion work, but that these are being held up pending the decision of the board of supervisors and the legislature regarding the appropriations for the work that the committee is trying to do.

KEEN RIVALRY IN MERCHANTS ASSN. BALLOT

Following the situation described in yesterday's Star-Bulletin, an interesting change took place in the arrangements for the election of the nine directors of the Honolulu Merchants Association to be held next Thursday. There are two slates now, one nominated by the committee and the other by members, and in consequence some lively interest is being taken in the election.

The second slate is not exactly an opposition one to the first, but was in a way forced on the committee. Certain members on the first one did not wish to serve and the committee adopted a suggestion to present some alternative candidates. Two members that were consulted proposed certain names, in one case five and in the other four, which made enough for a whole ticket.

Nevertheless the rivalry will not be one between tickets but have relation rather to individuals, for it is conceded with practical unanimity that Charles Bon is to have the presidency of the association. Following are the slates as they stand:

Death Cheats Slayer Fernandez Improves

Doctors Say That Murderer of Wife and Would-be Suicide Is Better This Morning and Likely to Live to Pay Penalty of His Crime at the Hands of the Law—Little Schoolhouse to Be Closed—Inquest Monday

Death seems determined not to cheat justice, and Manuel Mascoto Fernandez, who yesterday shot down and killed his young wife and then turned the gun on himself, stands a more than fair chance of paying the penalty of his crime at the hands of the law.

The doctors who spent yesterday and last night guarding the bedside of the wounded man said this morning that their patient has improved wonderfully and now may be said to be in a fair way to recovery from the effects of the gun shot wound that tore away the entire lower part of his face. As reported this morning, Fernandez is still unable to talk and no statement as to his motive for the deed has been made. The doctors predict a complete recovery, and their only fear now is that complications

A later report from the hospital is to the effect that Fernandez is said to have sat up and talked with the nurses and doctors shortly before noon. The man, while deprived of his lower jaw, which was carried away as a result of receiving the full charge of the bird shot, is able to speak quite plainly. The wounded

GOETHALS' MINIMUM HIGH

Engineer In Charge Of Work On the Big Ditch Says That 25,000 Is The Lowest Number of Men the United States Should Station In The Panama Zone To Care For The Canal

(Associated Press Cable)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Col. Goethals, head of the work that is being done on the Panama Canal today told Congress that at least twenty-five thousand men are needed as a garrison for the Panama Canal zone after the big ditch has been completed and ready for service. The colonel pointed out the need of policing the zone even in peace times, and the necessity of providing men enough to man the big guns at either end of the canal and the long line which will be exposed unless adequate arrangements are made to protect it.

HELEN GOULD CAREFUL BRIDE

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Miss Helen Gould, multi-millionaire and prospective bride of Finley J. Shepard, the wealthy St. Louis railroad man, has established what is said to be a new record for brides buying among the fashionable rich. She is limiting her expenditures for her trousseau to a thousand dollars, thereby disappointing a host of milliners and dressmakers who have been following her for weeks. The marriage is to take place at Tarrytown, N. Y., on Wednesday.

TURK DENOUNCES POWERS FOR ACTS

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Nazim Pasha, ambassador to Germany from Constantinople, today issued a statement in which he denounced the Great Powers for having "favored the allies to the exclusion of justice." He adds that the sympathy which the Powers have shown the allies has done more than anything else to keep the war with Turkey alive.

Private advices from Constantinople indicate that the Porte has decided to refuse assent to the demands of the powers and that he will insist upon the retention of Adrianople.

NOTED MINING MAN DIES IN CALIFORNIA SNOWS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 18.—Edward Treadwell, son of James Treadwell, discoverer of the famous Treadwell mines, Douglas Island, Alaska, and himself a noted mining man, was killed last night in a great snowslide at Trinity Bonanza mine, of which he was superintendent, in Shasta county, California. No such snow as now covers the mountains in that county has ever before been seen.

CASTRO CANNOT GET FREEDOM ON BAIL

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Federal Judge Holt added another shock to the series received by ex-President Cipriano Castro, of Venezuela, when he today refused to admit Castro to bail, pending the decision of court and immigration authorities as to the Venezuelan's right to enter the United States. Secretary Nagel now has the matter under advisement and his opinion is expected to be final. Castro offered bail for $37,000, which was refused by the court. Castro protests bitterly against his detention.
